By pouring water on its back and you have a good idea of the uselessness of the ald-fashianed methods of trying to cure Nervous Debility and Decline of Manhood. Thousands are being yearly disoppointed, cheated and diagusted. They become despondent and hopeless, not knowing what to do or where to turn. Nevertheless there is a method, simple, cleanly, secret and certain. Perhaps you have tried it? If so you are a well man, and a strong partisan of our Homeopathic Specifies. Fou KNOW that the "mild power cures," and we know it and propose that all the world shall knows it. The time is rips. Ignorance and quackery have held sway too long. Besied particulars sent free. . Putting the Dog Off.

There was a man and a boy and a dog. The man was waking for a car. So was the boy. So was the dog. When the car came they all took the rear platform and stood there. In a few minutes the conductor came out, collected two lares and tinkled the beil man said:

" Dog are against the rules." The man was deeply interested in the white film of smoke which colled upward from the

"Now, look here, my friend," he said, "1 ond act Mrs. Langery's black gown is entirely want you to understand that I want you to put off that dog and keep him off." "All right, I understand."
"Well, do it then."

"Oh, no: not this evening." Biff: The dog yelped and landed half way across the street.

"Now, Mr. Man, the next time I have to put that dog off this car I'll fire you after him," and he went forward and jerked the beil-rope, says the Omaha Bee. The man still watched the curling smoke, the boy whistled again, the dog jumped back on the platform, and the passengers smiled and nudged each other. At the next crossing the conductor burst out on the platform with the snort of a war-horse:

"See here, smarty" -- but just then the boy jumped off, called his dog and the two went trotting down the street.

The passengers roared, the man knocked the ashes off his cigar with his little finger and smiled, the conductor glared at him for an instant, chewed up the rest of his sentence and jumped back to his post growling: " Blast a fool, anyhow."

for every consumptive who hasn't delayed too long. There's a positive cure with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Just as it cures the worst of the many forms of scrotula, so it cures, and just as certainly, the acrofulous affection of the lungs that's called Consumption—through the blood.

But, even with this remedy, it won't do to wait. It has the tit can make can't make new lungs, but it can make diseased ones healthy when nothing else will As a blood cleanser, strength restorer and flesh builder, it has no equal. For scrotuls, Bronchiai, Throat and Lung affections, Weak Lungs, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and every disease that can be reached through the blood, it's the only remedy so unfailing that can be guaranteed. If it does'nt benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

On these terms, it's an insuit to your intelligence to have something else offered as
